FROM THE TEACHERS:

Pre-K -

Hello parents and grandparents! Happy birthday to Nasir Richard and Aliyah Rodriguez! I hope you all are having a wonderful week! The weather is starting to get cooler so please remember if you send jackets or sweaters put their names in them! Also, don't forget to check their files so you can see the work they've been doing in class and any notes I might send home! Have a fantastic week!

Kindergarten -

We've had a wonderful first full week of school learning all the rules and routines of our class. Please remember to label all of your child's personal items. And just a reminder all outerwear must be in the school colors. Have a blessed week!

First Grade -

First grade just started reading groups. Parents interested in helping with reading groups should let me know. They are at 11:00 am Monday through Thursday. If parents are able to help once or twice a week, it would be greatly appreciated. Reading homework will begin next week. First grader are working hard, doing a good job learning routines and completing classwork.

Second Grade -

We had a wonderful first full week of school! Homework was turned in and homework sheets were signed! This week we will have our first History, Language and Math tests. Next week is Picture Day and our first school spirit dress up day.

Third Grade -

Thanks for your contributions of water bottles and all the fun things for our class store. I was so blessed by your generosity! Please remember to bring in any supplies that are needed for this new school year if you haven't yet. This week we have History and Math tests over chapter 1 on Tuesday. Besides that, just keep working on your Spelling list and verse tests for Friday. Have a great week everyone!

Fourth Grade -

I wanted to remind parents to sign up for our Remind app-platform to access news digitally. I want to congratulate Daniela Sanchez for being our student of the week. She is kind and encouraging and is on task. We will be going on a field trip tentatively in December. If you would like to help let me know. Thank you all for your support inside and outside the classroom. We are looking forward to the next week of learning!

Fifth Grade -

So proud of each of you for a great first week and for your awesome performance in chapel last Friday. This week, we will have our first Spelling test on Wednesday and Vocabulary Comprehension test on Friday. I am looking for any 5th grade parent who would like to help and serve on our fundraising campaign for our 2023 field trip to Camp Surf. Please see me for details.

Junior High-

Hope everyone had a wonderful weekend! This week is full of tests for everybody. On Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday are 8th, 7th, and 6th grades' history tests, respectfully. Everyone will have a science test on Friday, as well. Math homework starts today. Math homework will be correcting errors on graded assignments. Please send in filled out approved driver forms. Our first field trip is coming up soon on October 13th. Information will be sent out this week. On Friday, we will be voting in our ASB officers for the year. Campaigning will be happening all week.
